

About Lima, Ohio

Located in Northwest Ohio, halfway between Toledo and Dayton, Lima's population is approximately 41,578 and has a retail market of more than 400,000. Lima's thriving downtown area is a hub of activity with an abundance of cultural and education opportunities, as well as a state-of-the-art Convention Center making Lima a great place to eat, shop, and do business. Lima is a family friendly community that is working hard to keep pace with our growth, while maintaining our charm. Once you have visited Lima, you will see that our city is someplace special. We invite you to build your dreams here, a community of endless opportunity.

Lima's business environment is as progressive as it is diverse. Our corporate residence includes Fortune 500 companies like Ford, General Dynamics, Proctor and Gamble, as well as several high-tech manufacturing companies with strong civic leadership, a highly educated and motivated workforce, and strong customer base. Downtown Lima has buildings registered on the National Register of Historic places.

Lima is a place where you can find a fulfilled lifestyle. Enjoy the varied retail shopping experience of our mall and specialty boutiques. Feel the thrill of our sporting events from collegiate baseball club games to stock, sprint and midget car races at our speedway and motorsports park. Participate in unique events, activities, and festivals at our fairgrounds, parks, and recreational facilities. Enjoy scenic hiking, biking, and walking trails. Partake in the multitude of arts and cultural activities as you see a Broadway show, hear our fantastic symphony orchestra or enjoy an evening production at our local performing arts theatre.